AUTHORISATION TO DOCK FOR THE EXPORT OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

DEFINITION	The phytosanitary inspection results in the issue of an Authorisation for Release to Quay (AMQ) . The AMQ certifies that the goods have been inspected from a phytosanitary point of view, possibly fumigated (if required by law) and that they are free from pests and suitable for shipment. The weights of each batch are listed in the QMA. The loading authorisation is the document that authorises the freight forwarder to proceed with the loading of the announced and inspected consignments.
